

Dave's Blarg!

2011-Oct-24

OMG! I'm starting before midnight! (Shock of shocks), I might even get the date right....

Well I spent today in the office so some parts are more exciting than others, like the work meeting that we had today (*only* 2h:45m long....) was kind of a slow spot...

Go Meetings!

Front door to the building with my office. Sometimes I park by the back door because the walk is shorter.

That reminds me, My office! My office rocks! It's a pretty short walk from the car to the door, and I don't pass anyone in the 30 feet of hallway to my office who would every utter a word about "a case of the Mondays" Booya!

My actual office looks a bit cluttered, we “just” moved six months ago and I haven’t really had time to organize. I can hear you all right now “suuure, six months and no time to organize”, the honest fact of the matter is that I’ve spent about 5 days in my office in the last six months. I was actually noticing something today; we have this intern, and due to our schedules he ended up doing a lot of the moving, and now that I actually come to look at it there seems to be an odd contrast between his office and those of the rest of the group, see if you can spot the trend..

Electronics Shop

Computer guys office (well ok, he did a lot of that himself, note the teetering tower of boxes on desk..

My Office!
(Note: Zombie!
Ahhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhh!
!!!!!!!)

My boss seems to have kept some of the frightening out..

What’s all that Shininess? OMG, that’s a floor! How did the intern end up with all the clean floor space!

And to think that we just hired him full time, that sneaky sneaker. Oh well. My walk home is pretty nice. I go past the football stadium and the university quad. I stopped in and said hi to the osu solar vehicle team on the way, they're chugging along on the solar array for the new solar vehicle.

The OSU Football Stadium, 10th biggest in the PAC10!! Take that!

There's always something going on in the Quad, even if it's just that guy in the mismatched argyle socks juggling, and that is not a bald spot, the sun was at a really bad angle....

From left to right, Jessica, Jessica, Kathy, Danielle, Kathy, and Zeno laminating individual cells into solar modules.

I also took time out for lunch with my friend Stephanie. We used to jog every day but we've fallen out of the habit recently, so we made up for lost time with a nice pasta/sushi/carrot cake/brownie health lunch ☺

That's about it for today, Oh, but I do have a new hobby:

My Hobby: Annotating XKCD comics around the school that have been inattentively posted without the mouseover text.

Which reminds me, if you aren't familiar with XKCD you should check it out, if you're one of the people receiving this awesome newsletter then you are definitely XKCD compatible, just hit "random" a few times on xkcd.com and don't forget to read the text that pops up when you hover the mouse pointer over the comic ☺

Until Tomorrow!!
