

Dave's Blarg!

2011-Nov-08

Halloo! Well it was another super-exciting office day! I'd tell you guys all about it, but between the making presentations, designing circuits and designing hardware mounts for circuits you might get the mistaken idea that I had an engineering job :p Lucky for me I had a few friends stop by today to liven things up. I keep a candy dish by my window (because one of my professors in college had one and he was awesome! This one's for you Morrie!) And between the chocolates and electronicallish questions (and the fortuitous placement of my office on a ground floor) (and probably mostly the chocolates) I get to have company in my hidey office!

Colleen brought me a cheese wheel today!
It's the small awesome things that make the days go awesomely ☺

Ahhhh! Invader!!!!

And Other Dave (also known as curly Dave) brought a delicious brownie!

So yeah, it was a pretty good day ☺ And to top it off, look what I get to come home to! Matt's hilarious ☺ Someone once asked me why I don't like pets, this is why! Who on earth would you have a pet when you can have (and be) an awesome roommate! And I've yet to see a cat that would rebuild his laptop with the soldering iron that we keep on the coffee table :D

Welcome home there ☺

After that there wasn't too much exciting, I mean everyone gets attacked by laundry monsters right? Lucky for me some tall lanky fella in tweed with a funny sounding screwdriver showed up and let me out a while later. I hate it when that happens, I'd really been hoping to get a few things done this evening and instead I spent it in the washing machine! So not cool!

Some Fella called Le Doctor came along and saved me after a while, sadly he sent the washing machine on the left back to some other planet and it doesn't get past the 'full of soapy water' cycle any more ☹

And in case you're wondering, that's not my wallet in the corner of the second picture. There's no possible way that it could be the very same wallet that I lost Friday night/Saturday morning, and there's simply no remotely reasonable possibility that it could bear any resemblance whatsoever to the wallet that I searched all of my laundry and my entire apartment and friends house for *'Twice*'. That would just be ridiculous!

Hey there un-curly Dave, lets see your best "I canceled my debit card and credit card yesterday morning and I won't get new ones for a week" face! Yeah! That's the one...

Hopefully there will be fewer monsters and whatnottery tomorrow, and thanks *So* *Much* to the folks sending back their blargs! I love hearing what you're up to! Until tomorrow!

Dave

P.S. I've always heard the old "make yourself smile and you'll be happy" bit, so I told it to Danielle and she gave it a shot:

How do you guys think she's doing? :p
